Objectives
The subject examines human nature around the world through a close study of poems, both ancient and modern. The comparison of poems on related topics helps to put cultural differences in focus, and allows a deeper understanding of both one's own cultural tradition and of foreign traditions. Though examples are selected from around the world, including North and South America, Europe, Africa, and Asia, there is an emphasis on poems in Chinese and English, which students are expected to read in the original languages.

Intended Learning Outcomes
Upon completion of the subject, students will be able to:
(a) identify representative poems from the world's great literary traditions.
(b) interpret poetry in a sensitive and historically informed manner.
(c) discuss how poetry provides insight into fundamental concerns related to human nature.
(d) appreciate and enjoy both Chinese poetry and non-Chinese poetry.

Subject Synopsis/Indicative Syllabus

Explanation of the appropriateness of the assessment methods in assessing the intended learning outcomes:

Quizzes and final exam are appropriate to assess students' retention of subject matter and basic recognition of poems (a). All assessment forms are used to assess students' ability to understand and interpret poems (b). With the exception of the quizzes, the other modes of assessment all assess students' ability at higher-order reflection on the significance and importance of texts studied: (c) and (d).

Note 1: Intended Learning Outcomes

Intended learning outcomes should state what students should be able to do or attain upon completion of the subject. Subject outcomes are expected to contribute to the attainment of the overall programme outcomes.

Note 2: Subject Synopsis/Indicative Syllabus

The syllabus should adequately address the intended learning outcomes. At the same time over-crowding of the syllabus should be avoided.

Note 3: Teaching/Learning Methodology

This section should include a brief description of the teaching and learning methods to be employed to facilitate learning, and a justification of how the methods are aligned with the intended learning outcomes of the subject.

Note 4: Assessment Method

This section should include the assessment method(s) to be used and its relative weighting, and indicate which of the subject intended learning outcomes that each method purports to assess. It should also provide a brief explanation of the appropriateness of the assessment methods in assessing the intended learning outcomes.
